General Information

• The Siracusa International Institute for Criminal Justice and Human Rights will organize the 21th Specialization Course in International Criminal Law for Young Penalists on 'The Changing Landscape of International Justice' between Monday, May 23, and Saturday, May 28, 2022. The course will take place in presence at the headquarters of the Siracusa Institute, located in Siracusa, Italy; online participation will also be allowed.

For those participants interested in obtaining the Diploma (see below), the examinations will take place exclusively online on Tuesday, May 31 and Wednesday, June 1.

- The course will consist of 11 daily sessions spread over six days, for a total of 29 contact hours. The daily sessions will consist of keynote lectures, panel discussions and small-group exercises, which aim to stimulate interaction among participants.
- The daily sessions will be programmed approximately between h. 9.30 and 17.30, CET. Each session will be broadcast live on a dedicated digital platform. In addition, during the course and for one week after the broadcast, participants will have access to video recordings of all daily sessions.
- In advance of the course, all registered participants must access the Institute's elearning platform, from which the faculty's recommended course readings and other relevant documents can be downloaded. Each participant will have their own personal profile for accessing these materials. PowerPoint presentations and other course resources will be added to the platform at the beginning or end of each session.
- Participants who want to receive the Diploma of the Siracusa International Institute will have to take an online examination once the course is completed. The examination will have a written and an oral component. Successful participants will be among the Institute's graduates and eligible for a prize to be awarded to the person who achieves the best examination result, and two runners-up. Participants who choose not to take the final examination will receive a certificate of participation.
- For participants in person, attendance is required at all live sessions: failure to attend more than two live sessions will disqualify participants from receiving the certification of participation or the Diploma. For participants online, watching the recorded video of the sessions will qualify for attendance, but at least 5 sessions should be attended live; in any case, attendance of all live sessions is encouraged.
- The Institute has a library containing over 25,000 volumes in International Criminal Law and Comparative International Law which are open to the use of participants in person throughout the course.

Eligibility

- The course targets mainly recent law graduates, practitioners, academics and students from across the globe, who are pursuing higher education or careers in the fields of international criminal law and international relations.
- To be eligible for the course, participants should have a university degree in law, or other relevant education and experience.
- Being a course for young penalists, participants should be 35 years of age or under.
- Auditors, who do not fulfil the eligibility criteria, may also be accepted into the course and receive a certificate of participation or the Diploma.
- The working language will be English.
